

Know about exciting Life Below Zero TV documentary series

Life Below Zero is a famous TV documentary which is broadcasted on National Geographic. It has been a great success and gained high TV ratings along with a number of awards. It is a documentary TV series which mainly focuses on seasonal and daily life of subsistence people who live their life in Alaska's remote areas. BBC Worldwide has produced this show and it aims at the life of celebrities who live below zero degrees temperature in Alaska.

This show became famous due to its amazing and unique theme. It's not easy to live in chilling nights along with other struggles one has to follow in remote areas. So, it is quite difficult to survive in these places with limited resources. The show's produced by Barbara Doran and Josh Freed and it was released on 19th May in the year 2013 and continues till now. Due to the fame of this show, it has continued to broadcast till now and it will not shut down for more decades ahead. The unique theme of the show makes it a perfect option for the viewers to feel a different life on television.

Who are the main characters of Life below Zero?

Not only you have got information about show but you will get to know All about "Life Below Zero" Documentary television series . This show has some main characters that are famous among people. Sue Aikens is 54 years of a woman who lives in Northern Alaska with near Kavik River in a camp. She also believes that if anything hurts you, you shouldn't think about it. Agnes and Chip Hailstone live together along with seven children. The whole family comes onscreen and they have been living there for a long time. Glenn Villeneuve is another celebrity of this show who has moved to Alaska in the year 1999 from Burlington. He lives in Chandalar alone which is located 200 miles away from Fairbanks.

Martha and Erik Salitan is a young couple which lives together in Arctic Circle of Wiseman in Alaska. There is another character named Andy Bassich who lives on Yukon River with 25 dogs. At first, he lived in Washington with his wife but then he took divorce from where and came to Alaska.

Awards won by Life below Zero

This show has been nominated for several awards but has won the award for outstanding cinematography in the year 2016. In the year 2017, this show won Emmy Award for outstanding picture edit for a Reality program. The net worth of this show is quite high and hasn't revealed publicly. <https://showbizpost.com/whos-omari-hardwick-wife-jennifer-pfautch-bio-age-son-death-ethnicity-net-worth/>